

Please join us for a Bogliasco Foundation event in partnership with Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts

PULL YOURSELF TOGETHER!

THURSDAY, AUGUST 17, 7:30PM

DAVID RUBENSTEIN ATRIUM AT LINCOLN CENTER
Broadway between 62nd and 63rd Streets, New York City

A WAXFACTORY PROJECT
CONCEIVED AND DIRECTED BY IVAN TALIJANCIC

This interactive, evolving work, developed in part during Ivan's 2014 Bogliasco Fellowship, explores the ways Chekhov's The Seagull resonates in 21st century America.

Seating for this free public event is limited.
Please RSVP to dev@bfny.org by August 11.

www.bfny.org

Erika Latta, 2010 Bogliasco Fellow, performs in WaxFactory's PYT!
Photo: Maria Baranova

A 501(c)(3) nonprofit, the Bogliasco Foundation awards one-month Fellowships to individuals of all ages and nationalities who have made significant contributions in the arts and humanities. Fellows live and work in our Study Center near Genoa, Italy, where natural beauty combines with an intimate group setting to encourage inquiry and transformative exchange across disciplines.